

Woodland Survival

Spend a day in the fabled 'Swampy Woods'. Build a shelter; light-fires without matches; cook your own lunch; use local clay to make oil lamps and catapult ammunition but most of all have fun

2nd and 3rd November 10am to 3pm
£35 per child (lunch included)

The 'Swampy Woods' are rightly regarded with love and excitement by dozens of local children—they are quite simply one of the most fantastic locations going. Seven acres of private woodland: a majestic beech clearing suddenly ends in a steep escarpment down to a swampy 'river'; cross the swamp and one is in acres of ferny thicket, untouched for 60 years and with the feel of primary jungle. Awash with hollows and nooks, this location is the stuff of childhood dreams.

"I don't mean to be rude or anything, but this is WAY better than I had expected. It's brilliant! I've done loads of survival courses, but this is by far the best"

"Bear Dog Outdoor are like no-one else; they take outdoor activities to the next level"
